Assassin Attempts Suicide But Still Lives—Act Causes General Consternation.

FUNERAL PROBABLY TODAY

MADRID, NOV. 12.—Jose Canalejas, the prime minister of Spain, whom Spain regarded as one of the greatest of statesmen, was shot and killed today by a young anarchist named Manuel Pardo. The assassin attempted suicide, and it was at first thought that he was dead, but when he had been carried to a hospital, he was found to be living.

No event since the throwing of the bomb at the carriage of King Alfonso, on May 31st, 1906, while the king was returning from the church after his marriage, has caused such general consternation and such pathetic sympathy.

So far as can be learned at present the assassination seems to be in no way part of a widespread political plot or revolutionary movement, but an isolated crime for which the exact means remain obscure.

The assassin, who is of Spanish birth, came recently from Buenos Ayres, by way of Paris. Practically nothing is known about him.

The king has appointed the foreign minister Marquis Manuel Garcia Prieto as premier pro tempore, and the liberal government, which Senator Canalejas so conspicuously conducted for several years, remains in power.

After a meeting of the cabinet tonight it was announced that General Wever, captain general of Catalonia and once commander-in-chief of the Spanish forces in Neuva, or Count Romanones might be appointed permanent premier.

Senator Canalejas was shot in the back three times as he was walking to the ministry of the interior in the Puente del Sol. He had stopped to glance into the window of a bookshop.

This morning he went to the royal palace to submit several decrees to the king. He emerged smiling and happy.

As an attendant opened the door leading to the street, a strong gust of wind struck the premier in the face, causing him to exclaim gayly, "Oh, what a wind, we are going to have a bad day."

About an hour later his unconscious prophecy was fulfilled.

As he stopped for a moment at the shop window a man darted from a nearby door way. He ran up behind the premier and fired four shots at close range. Three bullets, it was afterwards found, took effect. Senator Canalejas sank to the sidewalk. A friend who was passing at that moment, rushed up crying:

"Don Jose, Don Jose," this being the premier's name. The wounded man had scarcely enough strength to murmur:

"The scoundrel has killed me." He then expired. In the meantime his assailant turned the muzzle of the revolver on his own breast and fired again. A crowd quickly gathered, while the assassin was half dragged to the police station.

The premier was carried into a pharmacy and then to the ministry of the interior, where he was placed on a large marble table in the main saloon.

The blood flowing from a wound behind the right ear soon formed a pool on the floor. The king was informed of the tragedy as he was leaving the palace to attend the chrysanthemum exhibition and springing into an automobile rushed to the ministry.

He entered the saloon and bent silently over the body of his late minister. He was greatly affected as he recited the prayer for the dead, and turned to the assembled ministers to learn the details of the crime.

Marquis Prieto announced the assassination in the chamber of deputies, eulogized the dead statesman. His declaration, "The enemies of society will not triumph, for we are all united to defend society," occasioned great applause in which all but the republicans joined.

The funeral will probably take place tomorrow, with all the honors accorded a general who died at his post of duty.

Throughout the evening thousands passed through the chamber to witness the body lying in state. All the diplomatic corps paid their tribute of respect.

Remembered in Washington. Washington, Nov. 12.—The assassination of Premier Canalejas in Madrid recalls his visit to Washington prior to the Spanish-American war, which led to a sensational incident which attracted widespread attention at the time.

He conferred with Senator Du Puy De Lome, then Spanish minister at Washington in reference to the American attitude toward the Cuban rebellion against Spain. It was on his return to Madrid, Sen. Du Puy De Lome said, that he was shot.

WILL DETERMINE MENTAL CONDITION

JUDGE APPOINTS COMMISSION TO EXAMINE JOHN SCHRANK

Selects Five Milwaukee Alienists to Act as Part of His Court in Determining Would-Be Slayer's Mental Condition.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., NOV. 12.—John Schrank, pleading guilty today to attempting to murder Theodore Roosevelt, did not receive the quick disposition of his case he had looked for. Instead on motion of District Attorney Winifred Zabel, Municipal Judge A. C. Backus appointed five physicians, leading Milwaukee alienists, as a commission to act as a part of his court in determining the would-be slayer's mental condition. The court's action was the first such practice in Wisconsin criminal procedure. Under a recent statute the court was given this power. In his charge to the commissioners the court explained to them why they were sworn as part of the court, instead of the customary procedure of receiving only their report under oath.

"I have determined," said the court, "upon this course because of the customary condition evoked by jury trials of sanity. I have noted that in such trials the medical witnesses for the prosecution are matched by medical witnesses for the defense in contradictory opinions that leave the lay minds of the court and the jury more confused than before, and at a huge expense."

"The law gives me power to determine for myself. But I have summoned you gentlemen to be physicians of the court a part of the fabric of the court, to examine the defendant Schrank, and report on his mental condition regardless of the result."

James G. Flanders, a leading Milwaukee attorney, appointed to represent Schrank in the sanity inquisition, had two brief talks with his client, but neither gave indication of what Schrank would decide to do.

The court's instruction was that the determination of the commission should be as to Schrank's mental condition.

This was admitted by the court and prosecutor, was that no cloud should be thrown on the warrant or the charge under which Schrank was arrested.

The procedure will be that, if Schrank be found mentally unsound he, standing beneath a plea of guilty of attempted murder, will be held as an insane criminal until he has recovered. If he does recover when the punishment based on his plea will be named by a court of concurrent jurisdiction just as though there had not passed an interim in which Schrank was held as insane.

Schrank at the county jail tonight was not more or less concerned about his fate than at any time since his arrest.

SAY M'NAMARA OFFENSE WAS SOCIAL CRIME

Report of American Federation of Labor So Characterizes McNamara—Scores Detective Burns.

Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 12.—The second day's session of the Thirty-second convention of the American Federation of Labor was occupied almost entirely with the reading of the report of the executive council. In it William J. Burns was arraigned as an example of his own characterization of private detectives and the investigation of the federation since the McNamara trial was declared to be a concerted attempt by employers' associations and subsidized newspapers to destroy the federation and bring its officers into disrepute.

Of the McNamaras the report said: "The McNamara offense was a social crime. Thinking people, who were made to realize the poisonous, miasmatic influences corrupting the atmosphere of industrial life were well nigh overwhelmed by the weight of collective responsibility devolving upon them as a result of the existence of such conditions. The McNamaras were either criminally insane or insanely criminal—either condition due to imperfect education, incomplete education or defective mentality. In any case, society is responsible for not remedying the conditions. What concerns labor and society generally is preventive measures and human betterment so that life and working conditions may be pure, wholesome and clear. Those infected by deadly social poisons due to social neglect are the heritage of our own aims and those of our fathers."

Of Burns connection with the McNamara case the report said in part: "Burns has not and could not produce a scintilla of evidence to substantiate of his oft-repeated misstatement 'Gompers knew.'"

The report charges that Burns made it appear that officers of the federation were the higher-ups and that when Mr. Gompers made reply "this turned upon him the brunt of the attack."

HAVE CHANGED RESULT LITTLE. Des Moines, Nov. 12.—Official returns from sixty of the 99 counties of the state have changed the unofficial returns on the governorship but little. Clark's plurality to date is reduced 49 votes by the returns from the same counties which gave him an unofficial plurality of 2,751.

BASE BALL PROMOTERS MEET IN MILWAUKEE

MANAGERS, OWNERS AND LEAGUE
OFFICERS IN CONFERENCE

Sessions Open in Eleventh Annual Meeting of the American Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

Milwaukee, Nov. 12.—Baseball managers, club owners and officers of baseball leagues bargained, praised and deprecated players and other managers and owners in almost uninterrupted session in today's opening of the eleventh annual meeting of the American association of professional baseball leagues.

President H. M. Sexton called a brief meeting shortly after noon which reports were read routine preliminary business was disposed of, credentials examined and committees appointed and then they continued again the ceaseless barter and the near barter by the baseball men from all over the United States.

The Wisconsin-Illinois league, which held a meeting simultaneously with the association followed the latter's plan and after a brief session adjourned.

The salary limit question was the principal matter of official business to appear before the association at its meetings tomorrow and the day after.

Decatur, Bloomington, Springfield and Peoria, of the Three Eye league appeared managerless at the meeting, and there was doubt whether Dick Smith, who won a pennant for Springfield would return. There also was some doubt if Dick Frazer would sign again with Decatur. Both managers were non-committal.

In the Wisconsin-Illinois league there appeared unexpectedly the name of Charles Moll as a possibility for president.

Charles W. Murphy and Manager John Evers, of the Chicago National league club appeared at the meeting but neither would admit more interest in the proceedings than a desire to promote personal friendship with baseball men. Every one present at the meeting was anxious to discuss the salary limit question and during the day there grew sentiment in favor of a sliding scale of limit, whereby the class of the league would determine the maximum.

Many of the magnates appeared afraid of confusion from this. Several Wisconsin-Illinois league men favored deposit with the league president of all players salary money, and a penalty for payment to a player of sums other than the acknowledged contract price. This idea was received with some favor.

Reports reaching Democratic congressmen and senators now in Washington are that Mr. Wilson is pursuing a policy of silence regarding his ministerial advisers; but it is claimed he has dropped some intimations as to the policy he will follow, namely, to recognize all sections and all elements in an effort to harmonize the party, where that can be done without sacrificing the position taken in the Baltimore platform.

Senator Gardner of Maine, Congressman Burleson of Texas and Willis L. Moore, chief of weather service, are all advanced for the position of secretary of agriculture. Josephus Daniels of North Carolina and William F. McCombs of New York, who were active leaders in Mr. Wilson's campaign committee, are also considered in gossip of possible cabinet appointments.

Washington, Nov. 12.—A fore-runner of the office-hunting deluge which is expected later as a consequence in the change of the political complexion of this administration is being experienced already by Democratic senators and members of the house. Applicants have not begun to arrive in person, but letters and telegrams are coming by the hundreds.

"I was fearful that we might not find Democrats to fill the offices, but I am being rapidly disillusioned," said Senator Gore of Oklahoma today. With a sigh he laid down a telegram from two of his best friends making application for the same place.

Up to date most of the applications are for federal offices within the various states, but some intimations of a wish to serve the country abroad or in the executive department in Washington have come to hand. Generally the writers confess the wish to get in early in order to forestall others.

Many early boomers for Mr. Wilson have been discovered while others indicate undying and undivided loyalty to the congressmen to whom their letters are addressed. Many of the Democratic statesmen are making provision for an extended loyalty to the congressmen to they face the outlook cheerfully.

ADD BASEBALL PROMOTERS. Frank R. Weeks of Green Bay was elected president and treasurer and Charles F. Moll, Milwaukee, vice president of the Wisconsin-Illinois league at a meeting held tonight.

It was voted to request all clubs in the league to prepare statements of general admission to grand stand attendance for the season 1912 and at a later meeting these statements are to be submitted and the question debated of dividing gate receipts on the guarantee basis.

Aurora was the only club not represented at the meeting.

ROOSEVELT RETAINS LEAD. San Francisco, Nov. 12.—Theodore Roosevelt lost his plurality in California for about thirty minutes tonight and then regained it, as additional returns came in. When he again appeared at the top of the column he was with ten votes margin over Governor Wilson.

For half an hour Wilson was credited with being 15 votes ahead. The difference was made in the official count of Sier county which gave Roosevelt 25 votes while the unofficial count gave him 10 at 10 o'clock today. Roosevelt, 282,042; Wilson, 283,042.

CABINET CHOICES MUCH DISCUSSED

DEMOCRATS RENEW DISCUSSION OF NEXT CABINET

In Making Selection Wilson May Recognize All Sections and All Elements In Effort to Secure Party Harmony.

WASHINGTON, NOV. 12.—The return of Democratic senators and representatives is bringing out a renewal of cabinet discussion although the talk still is wholly conjectural, nothing having come from President-elect Wilson to indicate his line of action.

Incoming Democratic statesmen predict that in filling his cabinet Mr. Wilson will give one place to New York, another to New England and a third to Ohio, or one of the other states of the middle-west.

It is the view of congressional circles that at least two of the seats at the cabinet table will be assigned to the south, that one will go to the Pacific coast and another to the states immediately west of the Mississippi, including Missouri, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. With this distribution there would be left two cabinet offices which might be filled for reasons of peculiar fitness or expediency.

Senator O'Gorman's name figures prominently in the talk of cabinet possibilities, and speculation would assign him to the department of justice. The availability of William J. Bryan is also much discussed for the department of state, or for attorney general, and one Democratic senator has coupled Mr. Bryan's name with the ambassadorship to London.

While the prevailing opinion among Democrats now in Washington is that Colonel Bryan may be tendered a cabinet position, opinion is divided as to his acceptance. Mr. Bryan himself has declined to discuss cabinet possibilities since he has been in Washington and has laughingly put aside all efforts to draw him into an expression as to his own willingness to accept an appointment should it be offered him.

Senator Gardner of Maine, Congressman Burleson of Texas and Willis L. Moore, chief of weather service, are all advanced for the position of secretary of agriculture. Josephus Daniels of North Carolina and William F. McCombs of New York, who were active leaders in Mr. Wilson's campaign committee, are also considered in gossip of possible cabinet appointments.

JUROR'S ILLNESS DELAYS TRIAL

TRIAL IS POSTPONED AFTER ONE HOUR
SESSION UNTIL TODAY

Severe Cold and Dizziness of Allen Spaulding Makes Postponement Necessary—Witness Describes Hiding Place For Explosive Being Discovered.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., NOV. 12.—Thirty witnesses from the Pacific coast it was announced today have been subpoenaed to testify at the "dynamite conspiracy trial" concerning explosions in western states. These include officials who assisted in the dynamite cases at Los Angeles and other places. After an hour's session the trial today was postponed until tomorrow on account of the illness of Allen Spaulding, a juror. Spaulding was suffering from dizziness due to a severe cold. Every effort was made to put him in condition to serve tomorrow but his physician said it would depend on whether he recovered from a slight fever.

In relating his preparations to blow up jobs at Kansas City, Mo., and Peoria, Ill., McManigal testified about going to Rochester, Pa., where he found a hiding place had been indicated by unknown persons and 52 quarts of nitro-glycerine taken. He said he reported the loss to J. J. McNamara, who appeared greatly worried. McNamara, McManigal said, then provided the explosive out of a supply he kept at union headquarters in Indianapolis.

According to J. A. D. Badoff's testimony Herbert S. Hockin, now on trial, arranged the Rochester hiding place, but in August, 1910, in "don't-bie-crossing" the union, he tipped off to a superintendent of a steel firm in Pittsburgh who had six weeks before the Los Angeles Times explosion dug up and destroyed the nitro-glycerine.

Washington, Nov. 12.—What naval aviation experts declare will make this a red letter day in the history of aviation, was the successful test here today of a catapult device for launching aeroplanes from battleships. The scheme, the invention of Captain Washington I. Chambers, in charge of the navy aviation work, involves the shooting the aeroplane along a steel plank by means of compressed air. On the plank which is level and thirty feet long the aeroplane sits on top of a car which drops from under when the end of the plank is reached.

Lieut. T. G. Ellison, navy aviator had attained a speed of 40 miles an hour today when his hydro aeroplane had gone the thirty feet along the plank. He started his engine just a fraction of a second before the compressed air was turned on. The machine had started to rise before it had left the plank. It was in a dead calm that the test was made.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 12.—James O'Callaghan, must serve an indeterminate term in the penitentiary for conspiracy to rob the Polk county treasury two years ago, according to a decision handed down by the state supreme court today. Sentence in the case in which O'Callaghan was implicated with Tom Hatch and Peter Juhl, former convicts from the Stillwater, Minn., prison, was affirmed.

It was said that about $300,000 was in the vault of the treasury at the time the attempt to rob it was made.

O'Callaghan was a clerk in the office. LEGAL NOTICE YEAR LATE. Washington, Nov. 12.—Just a year late, the state department today received the required legal notice of the approval by the state of Ohio of the proposed constitutional income tax amendment. Two affirmative votes are yet required to affirm a three-fourths vote prescribed by the constitution, to secure the adoption of the amendment, with ten states yet to be heard from.

Washington, Nov. 12.—It cost Representative William A. Rodenburg of Illinois $2,235 to try to be re-elected to congress, according to his report received today by the clerk of the house.

ERECT MONUMENT TO CONFEDERATES

HONOR CONFEDERATE DEAD IN ARLINGTON CEMETERY

United Daughters of the Confederacy
Erect Monument in Memory of Men Who Gave Up Lives For South—
President Taft's Address.

WASHINGTON, NOV. 12.—North and South met and clasped hands over the dead of the Confederacy in Arlington National cemetery today, when the United Daughters of the Confederacy laid the cornerstone of a great monument to the confederate dead.

After former Secretary of the Navy Hilard A. Herbert had laid the cornerstone and William J. Bryan had pronounced a dedicatory oration, lauding the dissipation of sectionalism, the formal program was concluded. But Col. Herbert as master of ceremonies surprised the throng of spectators by calling upon Corporal James Tanner of the Grand Army of the Republic for the final word from the north to the south.

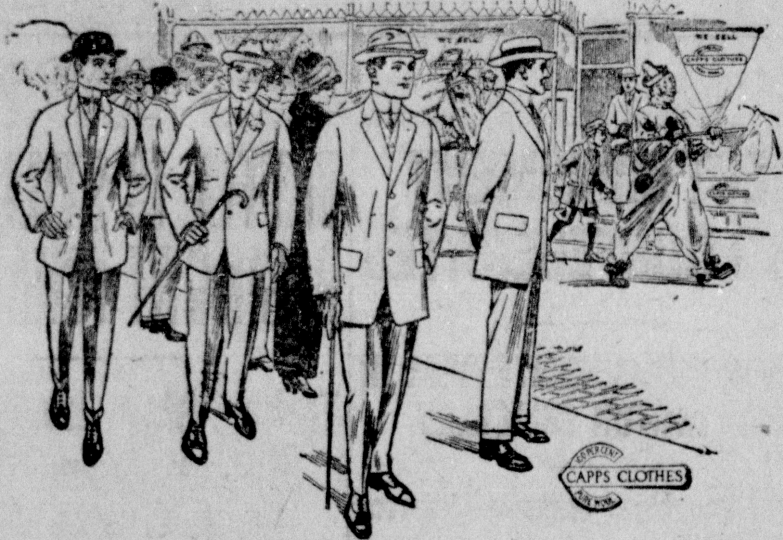

Leaning heavily on his stick, Corporal Tanner raised his hand over the crowd and pleaded for the ultimate elimination of sectional feeling.

"To you of the younger generation," he said, turning to the daughters of the confederacy crowded about, "I appeal for the establishment of true community of feeling between the north and the south. You can form no conception of the community of feeling that exists between the old Johnny Reb and the old Yank."

From the little group of old men in faded gray who swung their tattered stars and bars over the newly laid cornerstone, a shrill rebel yell rose and from then on the talk of Corporal Tanner was punctuated with enthusiastic cheers. He was interrupted with a round of applause when he claimed Virginia as his "grave yard."

"For," he exclaimed, "I was mustered out of the union army at the second 'Bull Run' by Stonewall Jackson's artillery," and resting his stick against the table before him the old soldier waived his trembling hands at the southern veterans below.

Col. Herbert in his address referred to the unification of the country, north and south, and reviewed at length the causes and events of the civil war.

MARKS EPOCH IN CITY'S AWAKENING

CITIZENS PARTICIPATE IN THE GREATEST BOOSTERS' MEETING.

Enthusiastic Gathering Held in Conservatory Hall and Addresses Made Portending Success for the Business Men's Association—Will Start Membership Campaign Today.

LEAD BOOSTERS

The boosters and get-together meeting of Tuesday evening, held in the old Conservatory hall, marks an epoch in the awakening of Jacksonville. History will write it as one of the greatest booster events ever held in Jacksonville.

Early in the evening a crowd of young boosters started out and soon had the streets in the business district ablaze with red fire, followed by the shooting off of bombs. This attracted the crowd and soon the house was well filled with sincere citizens who were in earnest for the development of the things that are so vital for the upbuilding of Jacksonville.

One of the features of the meeting was the bringing out of many citizens who are not identified with the business interests, but who expressed themselves as being for the promotion of a greater, a more progressive and a busier city. Among the speakers were Bernard Gause, Paul Fritchey, Judge Barnes F. E. Farrell, U. G. Woodman and Mr. Bender.

Shows Need of Boosting.

The first speaker was Bernard Gause. Of his remarks and all the others only a few thoughts are presented. "One object of this meeting is to boost Jacksonville and to do it through the Business Men's Association. It depends on the people of the city to say whether we shall go ahead and make a greater Jacksonville or not. A city cannot well stand still; it must go forward or backward. A few years ago the Business Men's Association was formed and it has had $12,000 to spend and has been worth to the city two millions. Much more might have been accomplished if he had had more money and help. The place of secretary is hard to fill and we feel we have a good one in Mr. Fritchey. He has gone to various other places and carefully studied conditions and methods of work in those cities and has brought back the results of his observations to us. It was decided to employ Mr. Bender and see what he can do in increasing our membership and influence. Do the people of Jacksonville know its possibilities? They say it is an agricultural place and must rise or fall as that industry is profitable. Gary, Indiana has grown upon one industry and has had a marvelous rise.

"We should have more enterprise here. Thirty years ago Decatur was below us in population, but enterprising men took hold and today she has 30,000 people. Our educational institutions are a great asset, but they depend on the prosperity of the city. People who have money to ADD BANQUET.

Mr. Bender urged patriotism. Mr. Bender took up the matter of the commercial organization and stated why it was, what it was and told of its functions. By comparison he showed that it was the personnel of the business men and citizens that developed good towns, also that to build a town it took a high standard of citizenship, patriotism and a desire on the part of the business men and citizens to better their condition as well as that of their town, also it was necessary to dare to do things for one's town and to anticipate the wants of the future.

He said that statisticians gave us a population of two hundred millions for 1910 and that Illinois would be in the heart of the most thickly populated area in the United States and that if the business men of Jacksonville were alive to the opportunities that the future held, Jacksonville could rank well with all the well ranking cities of that age.

Mr. Bender closed with a vigorous appeal to the people to get together and battle for Jacksonville. This was followed by a call for volunteers and can be said for Jacksonville that nearly every man in the house arose to his feet and with a cry of "I will" pledged himself to meet at the association rooms at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning and go out into committees of five each and work to build such a membership for the organization as would put Jacksonville on the map, good and strong.

Mr. Bender stated that never before had he experienced such a willingness on the part of the citizens and business men to bury the hatchet, forget past grievances and get together for their town, further that the spirit expressed there last evening would give Jacksonville an impetus to go ahead that nothing could stop.

Judge Barnes recalls City's Chances. The next speaker was Judge Chas. A. Barnes. "I am glad to see so large a meeting here tonight and you all know its object. I wish we could induce all in the city to come into the business men's association to make a greater Jacksonville. I hope for good results from this gathering for we must make a combined effort if we are to succeed. Jacksonville is an old city comparatively. The first settlers were generally from New England or Virginia and came here with education and religion uppermost in their minds and nobly did they serve their day and generation and laid well the foundations for the city we enjoy. Here is the first college in the state and it has been followed by other educational institutions. It attracted to itself charitable institutions and now it depends on us to move in the direction of business. A man in this place invented a hog nose ringer and sought in vain for some one to take it up. He found a Decatur man who did and the factory was started there and made many rich. The Rockford, Rock Island & St. Louis railroad wanted to pass through the west part of our place but people opposed it and it went by Chapin and we lost the shipping that went to Beardstown and should have come here. The Chicago and Alton road wanted to make this a division point but were tormented instead of encouraged and so Roodhouse has become a city with 5,000 population we might have had. A man here invented the best wood, stove, the Tod, ever made. He got no encouragement here and went to Quincy where he has made millions out of it. And so more similar facts might be mentioned. We must change our front and encourage and not knock. We all do far too much knocking on all enterprises. Let us help and not hinder; let us work and not pull back. If we are to grow as a city we must get together, boost for the place all together, join the business men's association and make a united pull for Jacksonville.

Work Will Bring Growth.

The next speaker was U. G. Woodman. "It is easy to make a town if all go to work with a will. Kansas City would seem to be in a location that was never intended for a city but enterprising men got together and when someone pointed to the great hills they said they would cut them down and make brick of them to build up Kansas City and so they did. Chicago was started in a swamp but they adopted the famous motto 'I will' and now New York has had to take in Brooklyn to get ahead of Chicago and some day it will have to annex the whole state for the same purpose.

"See what Dr. Harker has accomplished by his persistent energy. Would that we had more like him. All new comers are valuable to a city and would be encouraged by all possible means. Each citizen is a valuable asset to a city and the more we have the more we shall get but we must take hold with a determined will and work in unison if we are to accomplish the greatest things. Pure water question should have been solved long ago. Twenty years ago we had chocolate colored stuff and once when I came to this city I could not even get enough for a bath and later others have found it too dirty to use. This should be remedied along with many other things. We must get a great movement with plenty of men behind it."

Spasmodic Efforts Fail.

E. E. Farrell spoke next. "Our city is too spasmodic. We get things going and then let them die out. We had a Wyoming club very strong at the start but it died. For years we had a Country club but it dwindled till it had to surrender. I am often asked to invest in various enterprises. I have not the time to investigate but if I can refer the people to the business men's association for an endorsement it saves me trouble and it will others. The people of Jacksonville have foolishly invested in failures of all sorts. We can do great things if we will all work together with a united determination."

A stirring letter from Dr. Harker was read and then the audience heard Mr. Bender. Invest overlook Jacksonville and go away from home with many thousands, most of which is lost. Think what would be the case if that money were kept at home. Today real estate is less than it was forty years ago. Ten years ago Hannibal was down and enterprising men took the matter in hand and accomplished great things. All should be boosters; we should trade at home, patronize home merchants. We should work for a good supply of water and the city should own the plant. We are on the eve of a great awakening if we will only put our shoulders to the wheel and all work together and build up our beautiful city."

New Organization Plan.

The next speaker was Secretary Fritchey. "This is a good meeting and speaks well for the enterprise in hand. I have tried hard to study conditions and feel that now is the time to reorganize the association and work for Jacksonville as never before. I have in mind seven departments.

"Industries and transportation. This will pertain to promoting new industries, exhibitions of goods made at home, train service transportation and public utilities.

"Retail merchants which will attend to trade excursions, rebating railroad fares and rating for credit. This department will have all the identity and originality of a separate organization.

"Advertising, which will comprise educational festivals, colleges, press and the like.

"Public affairs. Legislation, water, sewage, parks, health, streets and lights.

"Rural affairs. Crop improvement bureau, road roads and also soil development and finance. Revenue budget, membership, collecting and auditing.

Young Men's Commercial club. Boosting Jacksonville, conventions, entertaining visitors.

This may seem a great undertaking, and so it is; and we cannot carry it out without help from all. We should have at least 400 members. We must forget the past and work for the future. I want to see Jacksonville go ahead and it can. I get many propositions from all sorts of enterprises that want to locate here. We want to organize all trades and callings, the butchers, the merchants, the professional men and all classes and make a united effort for Jacksonville."

WILLOW BRANCH

CORN CARNIVAL. The person who reported the "corn carnival" held at Willow Branch school, Nov. 1, 1912, neglected to state that Herman Brown won second prize on seed corn. His well built corn crib, carefully made corn tester and good sample of pop corn also deserve mention. Miss Hawk begs leave to correct the first report to this extent and regrets to report the serious illness of County Superintendent Moore.

History Is Repeating Itself

Last year we had the very finest nuts that came to this market. There's a vast difference in nuts, and the ones we offered our customers were of absolutely the highest quality. They had flavor and sweetness and the shells were thin and crisp. This year we are duplicating last season's accomplishment and our east window is crowded with nuts that are simply perfect. We have a big supply of them for the Thanksgiving and holiday demand and want you to see them. To see them is to buy.

Almonds—the very best of the almond family; Brazils—the polished, clean meat sort; Pecans—large thin shelled, unpolished; Filberts—Jumbos that arrest every eye; Hickory, new crop shell bark.

THANKSGIVING COOKERY

Raisins, currants, figs, dates and citron, lemon or orange peel will have a large part in the Thanksgiving cookery. Our specially selected raisins are in a class by themselves and the other articles mentioned will be found of a quality which will give a delicious flavor and richness to fruit cake or plum pudding.

POULTRY DRESSING.

Half of the success of the dressing with a turkey, duck or chicken is in the seasoning. For the finest seasoning try our paprika, onion salt or celery salt. The flavor of the dressing will suit your taste.

SUITED TO THE SEASON.

Just a few offerings to remember:

Filled Dates.	Monarch Mine Meat with Brandy.
Tropical Glace Fruits.	Monarch Plum Pudding.
Whole Pickled Peaches.	Sweet Cider.
Lobster Shrimp Crabs.	Boiled Cider in 20 oz. bottles.
Crab Meat.	Monarch Maple Syrup.
Boned and Deviled Chicken.

Roberts Bros.' coffee are sold on their drinking merit. Our six blends have won their way to popularity because of their high varying quality.

CANALEJAS IS ASFASSINATED

Lome wrote Canalejas a letter dealing with political conditions in the United States as affecting the Cuban rebellion and making unfavorable allusion to President McKinley. A copy of this letter fell into the hands of the Cuban junta in Washington and became public.

This precipitated a most serious diplomatic incident. The Spanish minister on inquiry from this government admitted the accuracy of the letter and prepared to resign from his post. Without waiting for this step the American government sent Senor 1/2 Du Puy De Lome his passports and he was at once relieved of his functions as minister. He was succeeded by Senor Polo Y Bernabe who remained in charge of Spanish affairs up to the time he in turn received his passports on the breaking out of the Spanish-American war.

Pope Receives News.
Rome, Nov. 12.—The assassination of Premier Canalejas of Spain, produced the deepest impression here especially at the Vatican, where the remembrance still is vivid of his energetic struggle against the religious orders.

Cardinal Merry De Val received news of the crime early in the afternoon in a cipher telegram from Madrid. He went immediately to the Pope and communicated the news to him. The Pope was deeply affected and expressed his horror at the crime, exclaiming:

"This comes from stamping out religion in the most catholic country."

His holiness then knelt and remained absorbed in prayer for the safety of Spain.

In Rome the crime is generally regarded as one of vengeance for the execution of Prof. Francisco Ferrer for conspiring against the government at Barcelona. The "Ossevolet Romanie," the organ expresses horror and utters a protest of indignation against the author of the assassination.

Expected Assassination.
Madrid, Nov. 12.—An intimate friend of Premier Canalejas relates that at a political luncheon October 18th, the premier, referring to attempts on the lives of statesmen said:

"I know that I am condemned to death, because I possess most positive information that two anarchists have taken an oath to kill me. I know further that the man who will kill me is a man who has been banished from Buenos Ayres and that he went from there to Paris, Valencia and Biarritz where the police lost trace of him."

of congress and in the senate, and the responsibility of the government brought with it a sense of closer relationship to it and to all the people for whom the government was carried on.

"I think I speak for my immediate Republican predecessor in office when I say that they all labored to bring the sections more closely together. I am sure I can say that, so far as the power in me has lain, I left nothing undone to reduce the sectional feeling and to make the divisions of our country geographically void. But I am free to admit that circumstances have rendered it more difficult for a Republican administration than for a Democratic administration to give our southern brothers and sisters the feeling of close relationship and ownership in the government of the United States. Therefore in solving the mystery of that providential dispensation which now brings on a Democratic administration to succeed this, we must admit the good that will come to the whole country on a more confirmed sense of partnership in this government which our brothers and sisters of the southland will enjoy in an administration in which southern opinion will naturally have greater influence and the south greater proportionate representation in the cabinet in congress and in other high official stations. While I rejoice in the fact that I have been able to take to heal the wounds of sectionalism and to convey to the southern people as far as I could, my earnest desire to make this country one, I cannot deny that my worthy and distinguished successor has a greater opportunity, and I doubt not he will use it for the benefit of the nation at large.

"It fell to my official lot with universal popular approval to issue the order which made it possible to erect in the national cemetery of Arlington the beautiful monument to the heroic dead of the south which you founded. It gives me not only great pleasure and great honor, but it gives me the greatest satisfaction as a lover of my country to be present as president of the United States and pronounce upon this occasion the benediction of all true Americans."

STATE OFFICERS MAY GET LONGER TERMS

Likely to Hold Over For a Time While Members of Legislature Strive to Agree.

The Springfield News has called attention to the fact that the present state officers may get to hold their positions for a while longer than anticipated. Their term of service may be definitely prolonged by the inability of the legislature which will meet in Springfield in January, to reach a decision on anything.

Under the constitution, the secretary of state calls the house of representatives together and presides until a temporary speaker is elected. Neither party has enough members in the house of the next assembly to elect a speaker, temporary or otherwise.

Canvass May be Delayed.

There is some question about the power of the legislature to proceed to business until it has organized. It must at least have a temporary organization before the canvass of the votes for the state officers can be made and the certificates of election issued to them. The constitution plainly says that after the house has organized, the vote shall be canvassed before any other business is taken up.

Until the vote is canvassed and the certificates of election voted in joint session the new officers cannot take their seats. The inauguration of Judge Dunne may therefore be indefinitely delayed.

The same trouble occurred because of the Lorimer factional difference in the Republican party four years ago. The incoming officers were the same as the outgoing officers at that time, however, and it made no difference. Secretary of State Rose was not called upon to preside as long as it had been expected he would be, owing to the bi-partisan alliance.

GAVE CHAPEL ADDRESS.

The students of Illinois college heard a splendid address at the usual hour Tuesday morning by Dr. W. S. Plummer Bryan, pastor of the Presbyterian church of the Covenant of Chicago. This address was the first of a series made possible through the Rev. George L. Roberts' Foundation fund. Dr. Bryan pointed out the difference between the theory of prayer and the practice of prayer, and held up Christ as the great example.

Dr. Bryan held a conference with the members of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. of the college and his entire visit at the college was one of great spiritual uplift.

President Rammelkamp is in communication with Rev. Thomas Smith, '89, pastor of the St. Nicholas Avenue Presbyterian church of New York City, to give the next address under this especially provided fund.

Capt. Percy Owen received a telegram Tuesday announcing the arrival of a new boy, Monday, at the home of his brother, Carl M. Owen, in New York City.

STATE NEWS.

Important Rate Meeting.—A matter of vast importance to the grain dealers of Peoria and the whole middle west, in fact, is the probable action of the railroad in regard to the establishment of the revised rates on grain from all Illinois and Mississippi river points east. A meeting has been called for Nov. 11 at Chicago for the purpose of making effective these revised rates. Last week representatives of the Peoria board of trade attended a conference of railroad men in Chicago on the question of rates, but this meeting Monday will no doubt decide definitely if advanced rates will go into effect.

Took Acid.—J. Emmet Milligan, aged 34, local agent of the Hancock Life Insurance Co., at East St. Louis committed suicide at his home 1623 Ohio avenue, this morning about 7:30 o'clock by swallowing carbolic acid. No cause is given for his rash act.

He Lived on Water.—After living on distilled water for thirty days, Jacob Schabach, fifty-five years old, a miner, of Belleville, declares he has lived his life and is in perfect health. During his fast he lost only 17 1/4 pounds. Schabach until a month and a half ago was employed in Boise City, Idaho. He became ill from stomach trouble and returned to Belleville, where his wife and several children live at 32 Glass avenue. Schabach was so weak he could not walk and was taken home in a carriage.

Makes Fine Profit From Sweet Clover.—Rochelle Register: Willard P. Graham has ten acres of sweet clover on his farm just outside of the city limits on the north Creston road.

The field was sown last year with small grain. A ton and a quarter of hay was cut from it earlier in the season than that worth $20 a ton at the time. He is now harvesting a crop of seed estimated to bring him $30 an acre, making the gross receipts of $65 an acre without cultivating or seeding this year. The ground is also greatly improved by the growth of this crop. Most people are trying to kill out sweet clover, while Mr. Graham is realizing $65 an acre from this land thus seeded.

Has Voted Seventy-Two Years.—James Hammit, of Wayneville, who voted Tuesday, has voted in this same township for seventy-two years and has cast his ballot for eighteen presidential candidates. During all this time he has resided on the same farm, which is located in the northwest corner of DeWitt county. Although advanced in years, Mr. Hammit is hale and hearty and expects to vote for several more presidents.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 12.—According to the South Water street commission merchants the Thanksgiving turkey this year is likely to cost the housewife from 30 to 35 cents a pound, or more than double the prevailing price of a decade ago. The turkeys for the Chicago market came from all over the West and South, many of them from as far as Texas and the Dakotas. The cold, wet months of last spring are reported to have cost a short crop throughout nearly all of this section.

Liberty was badly injured and a good part of Virginia was well nigh wiped off the map.

SCIENCE HILL

A Pretentious Name For a Very Good School Near the Populous City of Pisgah Along the "Q" Road Visited Tuesday by a Journal Man.

Tuesday morning the writer set sail southeastward along the well known Vandalia road, following the line of march until he crossed the "Q" tracks several miles from the city and kept on over hill and dale till the spires, cupolas and sky scrapers of the city of Pisgah hove in sight but he was seeking none of these and instead was looking for a school housed in a brick building a short distance from the city but in plain sight of it barring a few trees and structures in the way.

It was Science Hill school in District No. 27 that he was seeking and it was reached in due time and entering he was kindly greeted by the capable teacher, Miss Beulah A. Cumming, and made to feel that he was a welcome visitor.

The school house is a substantial affair of brick, something rather unusual in this county, finely situated on the crest of a small hill with plenty of ground and a number of fine natural growth forest trees about the premises.

And right here too it is right and proper to say that before entering the building the scribe had a pleasant talk with his highly esteemed friend, Rev. J. E. Curry, one of the directors of the school. The writer remarked that he was visiting a number of schools in the county kindly mentioning things as he found them, good and bad, hoping that his visits would have a good influence and not be taken in an unpleasant way. Mr. Curry said it was all right; that the good deserved praise and bad censure, and he heartily endorsed the work the Journal is doing among the country schools.

The outbuildings are in fair condition and while a little paint and whitewash would improve the looks of the building and fences there is nothing dilapidated about the place. The interior is in very good condition. They have as good a set of blackboards as the writer has seen in either city or country. Good portraits of Washington, Lincoln and McKinley adorn the walls and there are a good number of small prints, about ten by twelve, tacked up and are generally copies of famous pictures also.

Miss Cumming said the directors were very kind to her, granting her good supplies in the way of books, charts, maps, dictionary, cabinet organ and whatever might be needed. The seats and desks are rather antiquated but Mr. Curry said they were contemplating the purchase of new ones soon. The room is heated with an Oak stove in good repair.

Each school has some peculiar characteristic and the noteworthy feature of the boys and girls at Science Hill was their eager, animated attention to the remarks of the visitor. They were quite enthusiastic and paid close attention to all that was told them and answered a number of questions too with good intelligence.

When the address was ended the speaker told them about Sherman school and said he hoped they wouldn't be far behind in asking questions and it will be said they were not and that is a high compliment. They did hand in the inquiries in good shape and lots of them. The questions were generally sensible and were such as intelligent knowledge seekers would ask and it was a pleasure to answer them.

It is pleasant to visit such schools as Ebenezer, Sherman and Science Hill. No fault or criticism on any others at all. Some people are not inquisitive and some are. The writer is glad to go to schools where he gets few or no questions; let that be distinctly understood, for the pupils in such are smart and attentive too but it is pleasant to have lots of inquiries sent after one when he has finished talking to the pupils.

If comparisons are to be made it will be said that Sherman ranks as six and Science Hill as half a dozen in the way of questions and in general.

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Form of Ringworm. Thick, Rough Scale. Entirely Well After Using Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

Herla, Mo.—"I was troubled with scalp eczema for about five years and tried everything I heard of but all of no avail. The doctors told me I would have to have my head shaved. Being a woman I hated the idea of that."

"I was told by a friend that the Cuticura Remedies would do me good. This spring I purchased two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap. After using one box of Cuticura Ointment I considered the cure permanent, but continued to use it to make sure and used about one-half the other box. Now I am entirely well. I also used the Cuticura Soap."

AMERICAN ENGINEERS TO TOUR GERMANY.

New York, Oct. 12.—Dr. Conrad Matchess, head of the Royal Polytechnic school of Berlin, is in this country to confer with a committee of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers concerning arrangements for the tour to be made by members of the society next summer as guests of the Verein Deutscher Ingenieure. The indications are that it will be the most remarkable tour of the industries of Germany ever offered to American engineers. The tour will begin with the arrival of the Americans at Bremen on June 21. The great docks and shipyards will be inspected and then the party will proceed to Leipzig, where the visitors will be officially welcomed by the king of Saxony. A three days' joint conference with the German engineers will follow, for the discussion of such subjects as the history of engineering, the relation of capital and labor, and the effect on industry of technical education. Following the conference the American engineers will visit Munich, Dusseldorf, Frankfurt, Cologne and other large industrial cities of Germany. Two days will be devoted to an inspection of the famous Krupp works at Essen.

NORTHWESTERN PRODUCTS EXPOSITION.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 12.—Thousands of the school children of Minneapolis and St. Paul, chaperoned by their teachers and thousands of grown-up visitors flocked to the big National Guard armory in this city today where the great Northwestern Products Exposition, commonly called "Land Show," was opened this morning. The object of this exposition which far surpasses all similar exhibitions held in the Northwest in magnitude and importance, is to give to the public, especially to the home seekers and agriculturists a practical demonstration of the tremendous possibilities of the great Northwest, which includes some of the finest and most productive agricultural districts in the United States.

GIVES ADDRESS ON MODERN FARMING

Charles A. Rowe Talks to High School Students on Practical and Theoretical Farming.

A very interesting address was given at the high school Tuesday morning, at the regular chapel hour, by Charles A. Rowe, on "Modern Farming." Mr. Rowe spoke especially along the line of theoretical farming and experimental farming. He said that too many young men thought they had farming down to a fine point when they had attended the agricultural college for two or three years. Theory was all right in its place in every line of work, but a student might go to college all his days, but if he never had a touch of the practical, he would never be truly successful. This is particularly true relative to farming. There were so many things that one must actually do on a farm, in order to bring about the desired results. Many a farmer, who has been immensely successful never saw inside of an agricultural college. He received his experience from getting out on the farm, and learning oftentimes by bitter experience, when was the proper time to sow seed, the proper time to harvest the grain, and the various habits of every kind of live stock.

Then, too, there is the great question now before the farmer, as to the best methods of conserving the soil. It has only been for the past few years that this question has been seriously considered. Heretofore there has been plenty of land and it was not necessary to figure on the lands wearing out. As the country becomes more densely populated, the farms will be cut up into smaller tracts and it will become more and more essential to get the most out of the soil.

(Mr. Rowe pointed out the great part the farmer takes in the world's activity. Everybody must live and that which the soil produced was the most in demand. Let the farmer quit work and the nation would soon starve. We need the cereals, meat, fruits, they are our daily ration. He pointed out also the value of health in always being out in the fresh air and what a great thing it was to really live close to nature. The attractions of city life had nothing to compare with it. Mr. Rowe also spoke of the many young men who were making a mistake by leaving the farm and moving to the city. It was offset, however, by the many from the city who were anxious to follow agricultural pursuits.

Theoretical training in the high school and the state university alone will not insure success. The habits of stock, the diagnosis and treatment of disease can be mastered only by the hard knocks of practical experience. Two years of theoretical study in the agricultural college, two years of work as a farm hand and then the last two years of the agricultural college should equip a young man to combine accurate theory and practical experience in a successful way. Much of the so-called instruction in agriculture in our rural and elementary schools has little of permanent value. Theory must be supplemented by the concrete and practical.

The farm offers an opportunity for doing great good in the world. The first need of man is food and the farmer must feed the millions of the nations of the earth. The young man who would go to the starving communities in China and India and teach the people to double their crop returns would be a benefactor of the race. To go into any community in our own fertile state and instruct the people in preserving soil fertility, and thus conserve and improve our agricultural resources is no less a public service. By industry, perseverance and economy a young man may slowly but surely reap financial success in intelligent farming.

Mr. Rowe is a practical farmer himself and knows whereof he speaks. It is needless to say that his entire address was given close attention and heard with profit.

TALK ABOUT POSTMASTERSHIP.

In mentioning yesterday men who have been suggested for the Jacksonville postmastership the statement was made that the post held by Assistant Postmaster Harney is not under civil service. This statement was incorrect and the assistant postmastership is under civil service, the law placing it in the list having gone into effect about eighteen months since. Mr. Harney was appointed to the position by Postmaster Reeve and his relations with the postoffice employees and the public have been satisfactory. Suggestions for the postmastership are still being made and in addition to those already named the following are said to be candidates or in a receptive mood at least: W. D. Doying, E. M. Dunlap, W. C. Howe and John W. Cleary.

Official American League Pitching Records 1912

Compiled by Irwin M. Howe, American League Statistician.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Although Joe Wood, the hero of the world's series, tops the list of pitchers in the 1912 American league averages issued tonight, Walter Johnson of the Washington club probably is the leading pitcher of the season.

In the games won and lost Wood excels Johnson but the Washington pitcher worked in seven more games than did Wood. Johnson struck out 303 men in 368 innings—the season's record—and held 1,321 oppo-ing batsmen to 89 runs. Wood pitched 344 innings in forty-three games, during which 1,041 runs were scored off him. He struck out 258 batters. The Boston pitcher won 34 out of the 39 games, while Johnson won 32 out of 44, besides playing two ties.

Edward Walsh of the Chicago club was the "work-horse" of the season. He pitched in 62 games, twelve more than any other pitcher in the league. The averages follow:

A GOOD RECIPE.

Spaghetti with chicken is an improved way of making chicken pie, and has the further merit of making one chicken go as far as two when stewed or roasted in the ordinary way.

One chicken boiled until very tender; take the meat off the bones, and pick into small pieces. While this is being done, boil and drain without breaking the sticks, a five-cent package of spaghetti as directed in the package. When chicken and spaghetti are ready, butter a baking dish and put in a layer of spaghetti; then put in a layer of chicken, season to suit taste; then a layer of spaghetti, and so on until the material is used, making the last layer spaghetti. Thicken the liquid in which chicken was boiled and add one cup of milk and pour over the whole, and bake half an hour or until top is browned.

DOING

Not Much Difference What You Do

If you have your wages all spent by the time you get them—might as well be a slave and be done with it! Slaves got their board and clothes and a place to sleep—and that's about all the man has who only has his week's wages long enough to divide them up between the grocer, the butcher, the rent man and the coal man!

Quit working for the grocer and the others—save 20 per cent and have money in your pocket! You can do it by paying cash and we will let you have all the money you need to start. You can pay it back a little each week or month.

GENERAL MARKET NEWS

MARKET REASSURED CLOSES STEADY

Wheat Market Closes Steady at a Net Decline of ¼ to ¾—Rain and Snow Give Temporary Strength to Corn.
(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Nov. 12.—British consuls and French rents today reassured wheat traders who for a while thought that a price advance at Budapest might mean the approach of hostilities between Serbia and Austria. In consequence the market closed steady at a net decline of ¼ to ¾. Corn finished ¼ to ¾ down, and oats off ¼ to ¾. In provisions the outcome varied from unchanged figures to 12½c advance.
Although Budapest wheat quotations ran up 3½c and made bull speculators here uneasy, the fact that other European grain markets were all lower exerted a restraining influence. Some additional strength developed, however, account of the Argentina harvest before threatened but hot winds in one province and by too much rain in another. It was not until consols and rentes appeared to make certain a more peaceful outlook in Europe that the market after a weak start had begun to bulge, turned decisively to the bear side.

December ranged from 88½c and 89½c, with the close ¼ to ¾ net lower at 88½c.

Rain and snow gave temporary strength to corn, but a forecast of clear cold weather led to a setback.
Wheat weakness tended further to pull down the market. December ranged from 49½c to 50½c, closing steady ¼c under last night at 49½c @ 50c.

Big receipts and the heaviness of other grain caused the sag in oats.
Upper and lower levels for December were 31½ to 31¾c, with the close at 31c.

The backbone in the provision market came from commission house buying that ignored early weakness at the yards.
December lard achieved the greatest advance, 12½c.

NEW YORK STOCKS.
New York, Nov. 12.—The feature of today's stock market was a violent drive against quoted values which occurred in the middle of the session.
Prices fell away rapidly and for a time the list showed little more than a semblance of support.

Before the end of the day, however, most losses were fully recovered with a good average of material gains.

While the selling was at its height, various disquieting rumors were current. These included domestic and foreign political developments, and the possible result of the findings of the railway arbitration board in the matter of the demands of the eastern engineers, to be known later in the week.

There was no apparent justification for the assumption that the decline was even remotely connected with conditions abroad inasmuch as the European markets were buyers on a fairly liberal scale here, preceding this with a general advance in American stocks in London. Moreover the news from London, Paris and Berlin was all of a character to indicate relaxation in the tension created by the wary southeastern Europe.

Keeping Down The Cost

The best way to keep down fuel cost is to buy the right coal. We learned the facts about coal quality from many mines before we placed our orders. We wanted the best Illinois coal and we have it for you. Big, lumpy, clean, Carterville and Springfield coal at the prevailing prices.

BIG COAL DEAL IS CONSUMMATEDNew York Syndicate Buys Rights to 30,000 Acres in Macoupin County.

What will prove to be one of the biggest coal rights deals in this section of the country when completed, was consummated recently according to the Springfield Register, when C. E. Wyatt of Springfield, representing a New York syndicate closed the sale of 30,000 acres of coal rights in Macoupin county. The amount involved in this sale is $600,000 cash. The property will be developed by the eastern syndicate, which took over the coal rights.

The coal rights which were taken over by Mr. Wyatt are in Macoupin county and center around Virden, Girard and Nilwood. The seam of coal in this tract is known geologically as No. 6, averaging from six to eight feet in thickness and lies 350 feet from the surface.

Mr. Wyatt at the present time has taken a two-year option on a total of 280,000 acres of coal rights, located in Macoupin, Montgomery, Perry, Madison, Saline and Jefferson counties, which average about $24 an acre. The options on the coal rights, with the exception of the land which was sold on Saturday, expire in July and September, 1913.

To Sink New Mines.
There are now six mines in operation in the 30,000 acres which were sold Saturday. The syndicate has already made plans for the sinking of four new mines in the 30,000-acre tract. The present mines are located at Virden, Nilwood and Girard and to the south of these mines are the Superior mines. All these mines are located along the Chicago & North-western, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Chicago & Alton railroads, while the new mines will be sunk along the Clover Leaf, the Big Four, the Louisville & Nashville and the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroads.

The new proposed mines will be among the best operated and equipped in the country, according to Mr. Wyatt. The new electric haulage system will be used throughout. The dimensions of the shafts will be 14x28 and will have a capacity of 5,500 to 7,000 tons every eight hours. There will be four cages, which will hold about three tons each.

The mines will not be lined with wood, as many of the present mines are. Instead they will be lined with concrete, re-inforced with steel wires.

Has New Process.
Mr. Wyatt states that the syndicate expects to use the coal for its own consumption and that it has a process by which 95 per cent of the energy of the coal will be utilized. At present it is said that only about 7 per cent of the energy of coal is entirely utilized.

Mr. Wyatt refuses at the present time to make known the syndicate, but states that the heads of the corporation will be in the city within the next week or two for the purpose of closing other deals and that at that time, he will give the names of the New York syndicate.

ALTON HEAD VISITS CITY.President Worthington in Company With Chief Engineer Spends Two Hours Here.

Tuesday morning at 9:45 o'clock President B. A. Worthington of the Chicago & Alton, arrived in the city in a special train and spent two hours in the city, part of that time being spent at the home of a relative, Thomas Worthington.

In the party were Mrs. Worthington, Mrs. J. G. Grace of Cleveland, Ohio, Mr. Worthington's private secretary, W. G. Cook, H. F. Douglas, Jr., chief engineer; R. J. Marshall, road foreman of engines and T. F. Shuman, trainmaster. The train was met at the station by Thomas Worthington with David Estaque, who took Mr. Worthington and the ladies in an automobile, and Secretary Fritchey and F. E. Farrell in Mr. Farrell's car, who took Mr. Douglas. The various institutions and other points of interest in the city were visited and the guests were entertained at the home of Thomas Worthington on Grove street. It is understood that the visit of these officials to this city will result in a number of improvements in the company's property here and they expressed themselves as desirous of co-operating with the Business Men's association.

They left this city at 11:45 o'clock for Peoria and from that place will go to Chicago.

INDICTMENTS ARE QUASHED.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Indictments against Armour & Company the meat packers and Fred Oppenheimer, a commission merchant, were quashed by Federal Judge Carpenter today because the word "transport" in the indictments should have read "tranship."

The indictments charged violation of the government meat inspection laws. The two firms were charged with "transporting" a shipment of cattle without the federal stamp required under the meat inspection act. Counsel for Armour and company argued that inasmuch as they did not own the common carrier they did not "transport" the cattle.

WILL LEAVE NO VACANCIES.

Washington, Nov. 12.—President Taft stated to visitors today that he planned to fill all vacancies occurring before March 4th, without regard to the approaching change of administration.

The president intimated that President-elect Wilson probably would find all positions filled when he comes into office.

PLACED ON TRIAL.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—George W. Fitzgerald was placed on trial this afternoon before United States Judge Carpenter charged with stealing $173,000 from the Chicago sub-treasury, Feb. 20, 1907. The examination of prospective jurors occupied the session.

COUNTY VISITED
BY HEAVY STORMHail and Wind Does Much Damage
Tuesday Afternoon — Buggy
Blown From Road Onto Fence.

In the heavy wind and hail storm that visited Morgan county Tuesday afternoon Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Wharton and baby had a narrow escape from serious injury while returning to the city. They were driving along Diamond street between Greenwood and Michigan avenues when the strong wind caught the buggy and blew it against the fence on the east side of the street, holding it there for perhaps ten minutes. The horse became badly frightened but Dr. Wharton managed to hold the animal and both he and Mrs. Wharton are congratulating themselves that nothing more serious than damaged clothing and a few bruises resulted.

The storm struck this city about 3:45 o'clock and for about fifteen minutes the rainfall was quite heavy. Later hail started to fall, but it was quite light here compared with what was experienced about two miles east of the city. About 500 panes of glass were broken in the hotbeds at the R. L. Perkins farm east of the city and quite a number of plants were destroyed. The hail was so heavy that even after supper there was still an inch of the substance lying on the ground.

At Alexander there was only a trace of rain before sunset and after that time only .15 inches was recorded. The temperature for the day was extremely mild, the maximum registration being 72 degrees and the minimum 56. The rain was also comparatively light at Murrayville and Franklin and only a little hail fell at those places. Quite a heavy hail and rainfall was reported about seven miles north of Alexander, but no damage was reported from that section.

The storm yesterday, and the fact that it was preceded by a warm day brings to the minds of many the fact that November 8, 1859 was an extremely warm day and during the evening it started to rain, when the mercury fell quite noticeably all during the night. Early the next morning snow began falling and before it stopped there was a foot of the white frozen vapor on the ground. Another and recent happening that is recalled by the storm is the one a year ago Monday when Virginia was visited by a heavy wind storm that destroyed the school building at that place. It was also preceded by an extremely warm day and some are prone to believe that yesterday's storm was merely a suggestion that winter has set in in earnest.

It is indeed something of an honor to appear on the same program with an artist accounted the finest cellist in the world. The Springfield News referring to the recital to be given next Monday said: "The program is to be given before the members of the Springfield Woman's club, and marks a departure in the regular programs in the afternoon. Mrs. Jess is a great favorite with Springfield audiences, both because of her charm and beautiful soprano voice. Mr. Steidel is enthusiastically commended by those who have heard him."

It is needless to say that the gift is highly valued.

MOTHER AND GIRL TESTIFY.
Norwalk, O., Nov. 12.—The story of a four year feud which resulted in the "tarring" of 19 years old Minnie LaValley at West Clarksfield, Ohio, on the night of August 30th, was told by the girl and her mother on the witness stand today in the first day's trial of the six men indicted for the assault.

The mother described the stoning of the LaValley home several days after the assault on the girl and claimed that she recognized Ernest Welch the first of the defendants to be placed on trial for the assault as one of the men who stoned the house.

HAS NO POWER TO APPOINT.
Chicago, Nov. 12.—The power to appoint a successor to William Lorimer in the United States senate does not rest with Governor Deneen, he has decided after looking up the authorities on the question. He will make no attempt to appoint anyone to fill the vacancy.

According to the decision of the senate in declaring Lorimer's election void, no one ever was chosen legally to succeed Albert J. Hopkins. The legislature in effect failed to elect a senator. This situation is held to be different from that created when a vacancy occurs by death, resignation or expulsion.

Under the state law it is left for the new legislature to choose two senators one to succeed Hopkins and another to succeed Cullom.

PUSHES TEETH DOWN WIFE'S THROAT CAUSING HER DEATH.
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 12.—W. L. Beers, a preacher of Wakarusa, Kan. near here, during a quarrel with his wife at a hotel here tonight, choked her to death by pushing or false teeth down her throat.

Beers and his wife separated a month ago after a quarrel in which their children figured. The minister came here today to attempt a reconciliation with his wife. The quarrel was renewed and the tragedy resulted. Beers was arrested.

Beers said the death of his wife was entirely accidental. He said he put his fingers in her mouth to prevent her from attacking the attention of other guests of the hotel by loud talking. In the struggle that followed, he said, her false teeth were forced down her throat. A charge of murder was placed against Beers before he was placed in jail.

Grunnett and Sanders, with another Chicagoan have been camping near Chillicothe for about two weeks. Last night they went to Lacon, a small town up-stream for groceries, and it is supposed they met with an accident while returning. The third member of the party remained at Lacon during the night.

PRESIDENT-ELECT WILSON TO MAINTAIN OPEN DOOR POLICY

Will Keep Door to Private Office Always Open to the Public.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 12.—President-elect Wilson proposes to keep the door to his private office in the white house always open and accessible to the public, he announced today. Governor Wilson said he had decided to maintain as far as possible the "open door" policy which he inaugurated at Trenton. During his term as governor he has insisted that the door to his private office never be closed while he is in it. His idea is that the executive of a state or a nation should have not "locked door" conferences or transact any business in his private office that the public could not actually see if they cared to.

The future president will depend upon the secret service men, of course, to keep out cranks and will have a system of appointments, but the custom as observed in Trenton has been that between appointments the governor is "in to everyone."

Addressing a delegation from Charlotte, N. C., who invited him to attend on May 20, ext. the anniversary of the celebration of the signing of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence, the governor said he could make no promises because he did not know how much liberty he would have after the fourth of March.

"There may be an extra session of congress upon which a good deal depends. Of course if there is to be an extra session, it will cover May 20th, in all probability," he said. The governor motored late in the state home for the girls, where he dedicated a building to be known as the "Wilson Cottage." He delivered there an extended speech.

SET NEW OPERATING RECORD.
New York, Nov. 12.—A new operating record, so far as available data goes, was set today in connection with the third annual clinical congress of surgeons of North America in session here. No less than 175 clinics were held with more than 800 operations and demonstrations for the benefit of upwards of 2200 delegates who are attending the congress.

In one operation a surgeon illustrated how fractured bones can be mended in novel way. Sterilized steel spikes driven home with a hammer fastened together the separated portions of a broken hip. When the bones have grown together the spikes will be withdrawn.

CENTRAL ALMOST IOWA LEAGUE AGAIN

At Meeting Held Hannibal and Galesburg Dropped From Circuit and Cedar Rapids and Waterloo Added.

The old Central Association, of which baseball league Jacksonville was a member for several seasons, has been twisted into several shapes since this city left its ranks. The latest move is the dropping of Galesburg and Hannibal and the taking on of Cedar Rapids and Waterloo. This almost turns the circuit back to the old Iowa State league.

Waterloo was a failure in the Three-I league and their long fought fight to remain in that circuit was a losing proposition after all. The Central association has been on the rocks for the past two years, struggling along with factions, dissensions and poor attendance. Hannibal made a desperate fight to stay in the league again the coming season, but they were voted out and Galesburg was glad to get out, so the Iowa towns came in handy to fall back on. As the new circuit now stands it will be Waterloo, Cedar Rapids, Keokuk, Burlington, Ottumwa, Muscatine and the two Illinois towns, Kewanee and Monmouth.

Galesburg's twelve good men on the reserved list went to Waterloo and the Hannibal men went to Cedar Rapids. These towns pay each $500 for the players.

While many Jacksonville fans felt sick at heart because Jacksonville has been out of league ball for some time, the experience of the other towns during the past two or three years shows the wisdom of local citizens on the proposition. Jacksonville is a good baseball town and the time will come yet when the city will again be on the baseball map.

TELLS GRUESOME STORY.
Chicago, Nov. 12.—A fortune teller, is said by Mrs. Ella Crawford, who today murdered her 9 year old daughter and then attempted unsuccessfully to kill herself, to have been indirectly responsible for the crime. Mrs. Crawford drowned the child in a bathtub.

"I drowned the child when I was not in my right mind," she declared to the police tonight. "Some time ago I went to a fortune teller and she told me something that affected my mind. I was never right after that. A few days while in a spell I planned to drown my baby. I undressed her, even removing her underclothing and then carried her into the bathroom where I had filled the tub with water. When I struggled but I held her down until she was dead."

"When I was sure she was dead I carried her body to a bed and then attempted to hang myself. The rope broke. Then I tried to split my head open with a hatchet."

WITH SICK PEOPLE.
Former Governor Richard Yates is confined to his home in Springfield with an attack of sickness resulting from an infected wound on one leg. He does not know how he received the cut or wound but an infection followed and lancing has been necessary. He will probably be kept from his duties for a number of days, and possibly longer.

Dr. Joseph R. Barker is just recovering from an attack which has bordered very closely on appendicitis. He has been unable to take any food for four or five days and is consequently very weak. Now, however, he seems to be well on the way toward recovery.

Miss May Bouliware, who is suffering from a mild attack of typhoid fever at her home in Franklin, is getting along nicely. The Journal's statement in Tuesday morning's issue to the effect that she was seriously ill, was made in error.

PASTOR PREACHES FUNERAL SERMON

Rev. Clyde Darsie Delivers Forceful Sermon at Revival in Progress at Central Christian Church.

The audience was not so large Tuesday night at the revival services being conducted at the Central Christian church, on account of the inclement weather, but the pastor did not let the size of the congregation interfere with his sermon for he preached forcefully and impressively. The male quartet sang "Death is a Dream" and Mrs. Taylor of the Woman's college gave a solo.

The pastor, Rev. Clyde Darsie commenced his sermon by citing the man who felt that dead men did not seem to fit their caskets and that while he was living he had a casket made that he knew would fit him. The speaker said that many a person was that way when it came to preaching a sermon over their dead body, the sermon didn't fit the person, and if there were any in or out of the church who felt any uncertainty about the matter, they had better get saved and then the sermon would fit.

The text chosen for the evening was found in Revelation 14-13 "I heard a voice from Heaven saying unto me, write, blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; Yes, saith saith the spirit; that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

The speaker showed what it meant to be in the Lord and the destiny that waited such a man. We are in the Lord when we are on the right side, we are in apportion with that which is good and true and God like. So when one is on the wrong side, his life is opposed to that which makes for destruction, of both soul and body. The end of both paths, which the man or woman might choose to travel was clearly portrayed and the certainty of how their works would follow them.

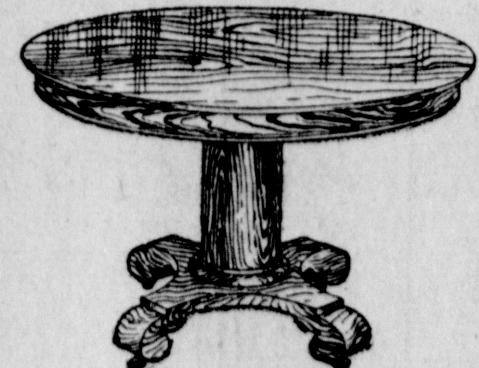

Tonight Rev. Mr. Darsie will speak on the subject "A Bargain With God" and on Thursday evening "Jacksonville's Greatest Sin."
